The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday November 15. to Tuesday November 18. 1712.

Windsor, November 16.

THE following Addreſs from the Chiefs of the Loyal Clans of the Highlands of Scotland, was preſented to Her Majeſty by Capt. Allan Cameron, Son of Sir Ewen Cameron of Locheil, being introduced by the Lord High Treaſurer.

To the QUEEN's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the Chiefs of the Loyal Clans of the Highlands of Scotland, under-ſubſcribing in behalf of themſelves and their Followers.

May it pleaſe Your Majeſty,

TO accept this humble Addreſs (tho' late) from us, who humbly hope ſhall always be found in the firſt Rank of Your Majeſty's Subjects for Loyalty.

It was with Horror we heard that it had been attempted to Arraign the Hereditary Right in Your Royal Preſence, and that even by the Encouragement of theſe very Perſons, whoſe Duty it was to have ſuppreſſed all ſuch factious Deſigns, had not their Antimonarchical Principles, and their own private Intereſts, led them into vain hopes of introducing a General for Life, and perpetuating an expenſive War.

It is with great Joy that we Congratulate Your Majeſty's conſummate Prudence and diſcerning Judgment in the Choice of ſuch Miniſters, as have faithfully executed Your Majeſty's Orders in retrieving the Nation from theſe eminent Dangers: And it is with Pleaſure that we find Your Majeſty hath ſo far ſurmounted an incorrigible Faction, as to obtain the moſt honourable Terms for a General Peace, and have brought it ſo far towards a Concluſion, that Your Majeſty's Troops are now in the actual Poſſeſſion of the moſt important Fortreſs in Europe, as a Pledge for the performance of the advantageous Conditions offered to Your Majeſty for the future Welfare of Your People, and the Honour of Great Britain.

Tho' the Trade does not ſo much concern us, we cannot but gratefully obſerve the Regard Your Majeſty hath had to the Britiſh Commerce, by providing for the Safety of what we have heretofore enjoyed, and improving it in other Parts of the World where as yet we have had no Traffick: And as our Trade is extended to the South Sea, and a Proviſion made for a Fiſhery, ſo we doubt not but it will have a happy Influence on our Northern Coaſts, that Your Majeſty's Goodneſs may equal the Extent of Your Dominions; and that ſuch a Branch of Your Royal Prerogative may not be invaded by any Neighbouring Nation, ſo far as to take theſe Advantages which properly belong to Your own Subjects.

Our Anceſtors under a long Succeſſion of an Hundred and eleven Sovereigns, Your Royal Progenigors, have always been Zealous for Monarchy, and ſince Chriſtianity was planted among them, for Epiſcopal Government; and the tender Care Your Majeſty hath lately ſhew'd to the Epiſcopal Clergy in theſe Parts, requires our utmoſt Thanks, which we humbly offer Your Majeſty, with Hearts full of Gratitude and Sincerity:

And will be always ready to expoſe our Lives and Fortunes for Your Majeſty, againſt all Factious and Rebellious Contrivances, Sword in Hand.

The following Addreſs from the Borough of St. Ives, was preſented to Her Majeſty by William Pendarves, Eſq; being introduced by his Grace the Duke of Northumberland.

To the QUEEN's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble and dutiful Addreſs of the Mayor, Magiſtrates, Common Council, and neighbouring Gentlemen of the Borough of St. Ives, within Your ever Loyal County of Cornwall.

Great Princeſs!

WE Your Majeſty's moſt Dutiful and moſt Obedient among the reſt of Your Loyal Subjects, beg leave to return our humble and hearty Thanks for Your great Condeſcenſion, in communicating to the Parliament the Terms on which a general Peace might be had. Every Perſon (not otherways biaſs'd) may not only plainly underſtand, but in ſome meaſure partake of the Bleſſings You thereby intended Your People. We are ſenſible, tho' ſorry, that Your Majeſty meets with Oppoſition, not only from Your Foreign Competitors for Trade, but alſo from ſome of Your own Subjects, who (though through Your great Liberality they have, from Small Beginnings, riſen to what they are) do oppoſe Your making an honourable Peace, becauſe they delight in War. We entirely depend on Your Majeſty's Care for the preſervation of Your Subjects, by the advice of the preſent Miniſtry, whom God, in our great Neceſſity, raiſed up for us; to whom with Your Majeſty, that God may long continue a happy Government to a happy People, is the Prayers of Your Dutiful Subjects and Loyal Cornish-men.

Which Addreſs Her Majeſty received very graciouſly.

Lisbon, November 8. N. S. This Day Admiral Baker intends to ſail for England with the Squadron under his Command. Major-General Pearce having proclaimed the Ceſſation of Arms agreed on between Her Majeſty and the Crowns of France and Spain, ordered the Britiſh Troops into Winter Quarters, and arrived here on the 6th. They write from Campo Mayor, that on the 17th paſt Brigadier Silva ſallied out of the Town with Four hundred Grenadiers, and killed a great Number of the Enemy in their Trenches, with the Loſs of only Seventeen of his Men. On the 27th the Spaniards made an Aſſault on the Place, and being three times repulſed by the Garriſon, they retreated in ſome Diſorder. Immediately after this Action Major-General Quintana brought a Reinforcement of Seven hundred Portugueſe into the Town, whereupon the Spaniards ſent away their Artillery to Badajos on the 29th and 30th, and afterwards retired homewards with all their Forces.

Vienna, November 9. N. S. The Emperor has named the Prince of Lowenſtein to be his firſt Commiſſioner at the Diet of Ratisbonne, in the room of Cardinal Lamberg lately deceaſed. That Prelate has left a great Eſtate to his Nephew the Count of the ſame Name. Yeſterday the States of Auſtria paid their Homage to his Imperial Majeſty with the uſual Solemnity, and the Ceremony was performed with great Magnificence.

Bruſſels, November 14. N. S. The Duke of Ormond having received Her Majeſty's Leave to return home, ſet out from Gand on the 9th Inſtant, under a triple Diſcharge of the Artillery of the Place, and the ſame Night his Grace arrived at Bruges. The Day before his Departure the High Bailiff with the Magiſtracy of Gand waited on him, to thank him in the Name of their City and Diſtrict, for the exact Order and Diſcipline he had cauſed to be obſerved by the Army under his Command, and for the great care taken to preſerve the Country during the encampment of the Britiſh Forces in that Neighbourhood. They alſo deſired him to recommend them to Her Majeſty's Protection. The Deputies of the States of Flanders, and the Magiſtrates of Bruges, made the ſame Requeſt to his Grace, and complimented him at his arrival in that City, and when he went away.

Utrecht, Nov. 25. N. S. On the 18th at Night Monſieur Consbruck, one of the Plenipotentiaries of his Imperial Majeſty, dy'd in this Town, and on the 19th his Death was formally notify'd to the ſeveral Miniſters reſiding here. Seven Deputies of the States of Brabant and Flanders, came hither ſome Days ago, and after having ſeveral Conferences with the Lord Privy Seal, and the Plenipotentiaries of the States General, they ſet out for the Hague, where they intend to wait for the arrival of the Earls of Strafford and Orrery. Count Denhoff and Monſieur Marſhal de Bieberſtein, two of the Pruſſian Miniſters, are likewiſe gone to the Hague, in expectation of meeting the Earl of Strafford, and ſeveral others are preparing to go thither upon the ſame Account, his Excellency's Equipage being order'd to wait there for him. Yeſterday Prince Eugene arriv'd here, being accompany'd by Count Sinzendorff, and others of Diſtinction, and it is ſaid, to Morrow he will proceed on his Journey to Vienna. We have receiv'd advice, that on the 8th, a Body of Pruſſian Troops under the Command of the Prince of Anhalt Deſſau, ſurpriz'd the Caſtle of Meurs, in the Poſſeſſion of the States General. The two Parties are ſince come to ſuch an accommodation, that they are very eaſie to one another.

London, Nov. 17. On Saturday laſt, at Seven in the Morning, the Duke of Hamilton and the Lord Mohun fought a Duel in Hyde-Park, where the latter was kill'd upon the Spot, and his Grace dy'd of his Wounds as his Servants were carrying him to his Coach. James Duke of Hamilton and Brandon had been Gentleman of the Bed-Chamber to King Charles II. and Envoy Extraordinary from that Prince to the Court of France. He was created Duke of Brandon by Her Majeſty in the Year 1711. Upon the Death of the late Earl Rivers he was conſtituted Maſter General of Her Majeſty's Ordinance, and in a Chapter lately held at Windſor, was elected Knight Companion of the moſt Noble Order of the Garter. He marry'd Anne, the Daughter of the late Lord Gerard of Bromley, by whom he hath had ſeveral Children, and is ſucceeded in Honour and Eſtate by his eldeſt Son the Marquiſs of Clydale, a Child of twelve Years old